I was blown away by the caliber of my cohort. Upon meeting them, I knew that my EMBA education would come from both the professor and the classroom experience. Today, we continue to push and cheer one another on as we climb to the tops of our respective organizations.

The Experience

The Drexel Executive MBA goes beyond typical business and management courses to enhance the trajectory of your career from day one. The program emphasizes strategic leadership and explores existing and emerging business trends — from analytical leadership and business problem-solving, to financial management and high-performance team building.

The program's residency courses — one international — serve as milestones in the EMBA journey. A five-day, multidisciplinary simulation kicks off the program, and focuses on enterprise leadership and building a connection with your cohort. The residency abroad occurs midway, where you'll explore international business markets and showcase what you've learned on a global scale. The program concludes with an executive challenge capstone project.

Our annual Executive Electives Week allows you to expand your business horizons further and pursue your unique goals while taking classes with peers outside of your conventional network. Recent elective topics included leading strategic change, analytical storytelling, sustainability, executive communication and more.

The rowing activity during the Drexel Leadership Experience was a great way for our cohort to learn about teamwork and execution in the business world. Similar to business teams, we all brought various backgrounds and abilities to the race. It taught us quite a bit about how to work together and learn a skill quickly and efficiently.
