

REAL ESTATE MANAGEMENT AND DEVELOPMENT

The Real Estate Management and Development (REMD) program at Drexel LeBow provides undergraduates with the knowledge and skills needed to excel in the real estate industry. The curriculum covers key areas such as sustainability, property valuation, real estate finance, development, law and property management. Courses have an applied focus, providing interactions with practitioners while developing critical thinking, analytical and leadership skills. The dynamic real estate industry in Philadelphia and the Greater Delaware Valley is our classroom.
